

- Revolver to add up to $50 million in additional liquidity in 2022 to supplement ~$62 million in liquidity as of March 31, 2022
- ATM complete with $250 million raised since September 30, 2021

IRVING, Texas, April 01, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Exela Technologies, Inc. ("Exela", "Company") (NASDAQ: XELA), a global business process automation leader, announced that it has amended its previously reported debt facility from B. Riley Commercial Capital, LLC ("B. Riley") to include automatic maturity extensions for a revolving credit facility. This amendment substantially reduces the Company's 2023 debt maturities, with the B. Riley facility having a current balance of approximately $92 million, and provides for additional liquidity of up to $50 million, increasing flexibility of the Company's capital structure.

Prior to the new B. Riley revolver, as of March 31, 2022 the Company had approximately $62 million in liquidity.

Exela has completed its At Market Issuance ("ATM") announced in the September 30, 2021 Prospectus Supplement, raising a total of $250 million.
