

Berlin/Paris, August 5, 2021 - Exela Technologies, Inc. ("Exela") (NASDAQ: XELA) today announced that its Digital Mailroom (DMR) platform is live and available for online signups for small and medium businesses (SMBs) in Germany and France. Following last month's successful deployment in the UK, Exela DMR will now cater to a growing customer base of SMBs across the two largest continental European markets.

Exela DMR already has a strong foothold with existing enterprise customers in these markets. Small and mid-sized businesses, start-ups, and individual professionals can now sign up for Exela DMR, allowing them to get a virtual office address and receive their incoming mail as digitized documents accessible via the DMR Portal. The DMR platform also offers add-on services such as parcel delivery and several inbuilt features such as electronic signature, data redaction, and storage. You can find out more about the DMR solution for Germany here and for France here.

"Businesses everywhere are rethinking how they work; companies and their employees are seeking flexible ways of managing operations. By expanding our DMR SMB solution in Europe we are giving businesses and their employees the choice to work from anywhere and anytime," says Vitalie Robu, President EMEA. "Additionally, France and Germany are the two largest markets for us in continental Europe. We believe the extension of the DMR solution for SMBs will further strengthen our position in these markets."
