

IRVING, Texas, Dec. 29, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Exela Technologies, Inc. ("Exela") (NASDAQ: XELA) today announced it has expanded an existing relationship with a multinational managed care corporation. Since 2014, Exela has partnered with the enterprise and the relationship continues to grow by expanding PCH Global Cloud services for managing the return mail services for multiple state Medicaid programs. Exela's relationship of over eight years has an annual contract value of over $7 million and is the foundation for add on services such as claims processing for several state Medicaid programs across the country.

Exela continues to invest in expanding PCH Global's capabilities to provide a cloud hosted solution with one of the best edit resolutions for healthcare claims. This extension of deployment marks another milestone in the value proposition of the PCH Global platform to digitally connect members, providers and insurance companies to enable clean claims, payment transparency and digital appeals. PCH Global's cloud network also offers increased scalability, the highest uptime and best business continuity protections. PCH Global has robust data analytics which are continually improving as Exela processes more and more data. Additionally, PCH Global's improved data analytics can be accessed via a self-service model.

"We welcome the opportunity to further help automate business processes and improve efficiencies of our long-term customer by leveraging our PCH Global platform," said Suresh Yannamani, President of Exela, adding "Exela will continue to push forward with PCH Global solutions for the healthcare industry to improve revenue cycle and payment integrity."
