

- Shareholders can now exchange blocks of 20 shares of common stock into a tradable $25 perpetual, convertible preferred stock with a 6% annual dividend
- Offering price represents a 127% premium to the closing share price of $0.55 on January 25, 2022, the day prior to the commencement of the original Offer
- Shares tendered will be retired, reducing share count by approximately 30%
- Participating shareholders should instruct their broker to tender their shares well before the expiration time of 11:59 p.m. EST on March 10, 2022, to give their broker enough time to tender their shares

IRVING, Texas, Feb. 24, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Exela Technologies, Inc. ("Exela" or the "Company") (NASDAQ: XELA) announced today that it has amended the previously announced offer (the "Offer") to exchange up to 100,000,000 shares of its Common Stock for unsecured 6.00% senior notes due 2029 (the "New Notes"). The Offer has been amended to replace the New Notes with perpetual, convertible preferred stock with a 6% annual dividend (the "Preferred Stock"), paid quarterly.

Shareholders can now exchange Common Stock in 20 share increments for $25 of Preferred Stock. Thus, shareholders whose Common Stock is accepted for exchange will hold Preferred Stock with a liquidation preference equivalent to $1.25 per share of Common Stock, cumulative dividends of 6% per annum and retain the right to participate in future dividends on our Common Stock, as well as have the right to convert their Preferred Stock into Common Stock at a conversion price of $1.25. As a result of this amendment, shares of Common Stock may now be tendered until 11:59pm ET on March 10, 2022, and an aggregate of up to $125,000,000 of Preferred Stock may be issued in the Exchange Offer.

Exela intends to apply to list the Preferred Stock on the Nasdaq under the symbol "XELAP." If this application is approved, trading in the Preferred Stock is expected to commence within a 30-day period after the approval of listing. Until the time the application is approved, or if not approved, the Series B Preferred Stock is expected to trade on the OTC. In addition, by offering the Preferred Stock instead of notes, the exchange of Common Stock for the consideration in the exchange offer will not be presently taxable to the holders of the Common Stock.

Par Chadha, Exela's Executive Chairman, noted, "It's no secret that I believe this Company is undervalued. While I cannot ask our shareholders to participate, I plan to participate in this Offer." Mr. Chadha, along with other officers and directors, have notified the Company that they are considering tendering up to 28.5% of their Common Stock in the Offer.

An Amended and Restated Offer to Exchange has been filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and can be retrieved at <http://www.sec.gov>. Holders of shares of Common Stock may contact D.F. King Co., Inc., the information agent for the Offer, by calling

Banks and Brokers, Call Collect: (212) 269-5550; all others, call toll-free: (888) 644-6071 or visit <https://to.exelatech.com/> for this purpose.

This press release is for informational purposes only and shall not constitute an offer to sell or exchange nor the solicitation of an offer to buy the Preferred Stock or any other securities. The Offer is not being made to any person in any jurisdiction in which the offer, solicitation or sale is unlawful. Any offers of the Preferred Stock will be made only by means of the Offer to Exchange.

The complete terms and conditions of the Offer are set forth in the Amended and Restated Offer to Exchange dated February 24, 2022, and the related second amended and restated letter of transmittal that has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on Schedule TO. Shareholders of Exela are strongly encouraged to read the Schedule TO and related exhibits because they contain important information about the Offer. The Schedule TO and related exhibits will be available without charge at the Securities and Exchange Commission's website at <http://www.sec.gov>.
